

A Cheerful Reset Note

A tiny page for a lighter moment

You do not have to fix the whole day at once. Try one soft breath, one glass of water, and one small kindness toward yourself. Let that be a real beginning.

Three bright things to notice today:

1. Something that made you smile, even briefly.
2. Something your body did for you.
3. Something you can make easier, smaller, or kinder.

A simple invitation: choose one gentle next step and let it count.

Today I can:

- ☐ Step outside for one minute
- ☐ Drink a glass of water
- ☐ Send one kind message
- ☐ Put one task down for later
- ☐ Take three slower breaths

One sentence for myself:

I am allowed to begin again softly.
